Wilsthorpe Community School Twitter policy

We are using Twitter, a free messaging service offered by a third party, as one tool in our efforts to communicate clearly, quickly and in an engaging manner to our students, their parents/carers and the local community who may have a vested interest in the school.

You can follow us @WilsthorpeCS

Twitter content delivered by us includes (but is not limited to):

- Interesting facts, quotes or observations related to our school.
- Links to news releases, blog posts, videos, guidance and other approved, publicly available material related to our work
- Links to relevant information produced and published elsewhere (work of schools, organisations, researchers, news organisations and others). This can include videos, blog posts, and retweets (RTs) from other Twitter users.

What can you expect?
News and updates, signposts to help and guidance, official school publications and announcements, information about Wilsthorpe Community School and publicity campaigns.

Retweets (RTs)
We may retweet news, links and personal observations we believe are relevant to the education and safety of our community and to the work we do.

Following
Our decision to follow a particular Twitter user does not imply endorsement of any kind. We follow accounts on Twitter we believe are relevant to our work. This could include following the Twitter accounts of organisations, schools, academies, companies and other commercial enterprises (and/or their employees) who comment on education related issues.

Likes/Followers
We cannot be held responsible for the content of our followers and those Twitter users who chose to follow the school.

Availability
We commit to updating and monitoring our Twitter account during regular weekday office hours: 0830 – 1630 however, like many Twitter users, we may monitor and respond at other times of the day. We accept no responsibility for lack of service due to Twitter downtime.

@Replies and Direct Messages
The twitter account is used as a one-way communication channel, and direct messages and replies will not be read, or replied too.

If an issue requires urgent attention, please contact us via TEL: 01159 729421 or email: enquiries@wilsthorpe.derbyshire.sch.uk.
